

I RISE TO REMARK

BY JOHN PHILLIPS

I understand there was an election last week! My crystal ball is applying for a job with Dr. Gallup, or Mr. Roper or Mr. Crossley. This letter did say we were coming back to normal elections, with normal predictions and normal upsets but neither I, nor 99% of the people, expected what happened. The only predictor who turned out right was Mr. Truman.

Many people will step forward to claim credit, or give reasons. No campaign is ever lost or won on any single reason. The losers usually say, this or that defeated me, but overlook the other reasons which entered into the picture, and they give credit or blame to some reason which may only have been the final straw.

The silent vote, undetermined in any election, must have voted heavily for Mr. Truman. What influenced that? Perhaps it was a vote, with many, for the "underdog," perhaps it was his own people, and with little money. People like a fighting candidate. Perhaps it was the influence of inflationary trends, and high prices, and the lack of houses, even if these are issues which must be solved at home and cannot be solved in Washington without the ultimate destruction of representative government. How many voters read history? People can't eat "unity." I trust they won't be too disappointed when lower prices and houses are not returning, painlessly and without their own efforts and sacrifices.

Labor may claim the victory, but the rights to that claim are still to be determined. This argument will appear again in votes on a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act. Wallace may have taken fewer votes in critical places than the pollsters expected. The farmers voted for money from the Federal treasury. The most important factor may have been the votes of millions of young voters who never, in all their political lives, have known anything except administration by this same party.

We have what Washington and Jefferson foresaw. The tenure of one party becomes the control of the bench, and the agencies and the departments, by appointments. This is not necessarily bad, but a change administration is the purgative for centralized government, and mushrooming bureaucracy.

California lost members on the Ways and Means and the Banking and Currency Committees. We lose the chairmanship of the Committee on Public Lands. I move up seven or eight places on the now-minority side of the Appropriations Committee; and I become the 5th in seniority on the California delegation and the 4th on the republican side. California will have no major committee chairmanships, but our neighbor, Congressman Sheppard, will have his choice of being chairman of the subcommittee on Navy appropriations, which he once held, or of the subcommittee on Agriculture appropriations. Congressmen angle will be chairman of a subcommittee on Mines and Mining.

We can hope that Democratic members of the delegation will be put on committees important to this, from which we lost men, and that one of them will go to the committee on Agriculture, thus putting Californians on both sides of that table.

STANTON P.T.A. CONSIDERS PURCHASE OF SCHOOL LAND

A discussion of buying more land for an addition to Magnolia Elementary School will be principal business of the Parent-Teacher Association meeting tomorrow night in the school auditorium, Mrs. Homer Kirk, publicity chairman, said.

The school is crowded now to the point that kindergarten is conducted in the auditorium.

Let him soil his hands with a little work.

When I put that Dutch cleaner on the stove I knew I would put it into something.

Have you got over an I.O.U. yet this morning?

I had to go to a football game last night. That is the price of having kids.

Open House School Held Prior To P-T.A. Meeting

Parents of children attending the Cypress elementary school and interested friends were guests of the local P-T.A. on Thursday evening, November fourth, when an open house was held prior to the group's regular monthly meeting. From seven to eight o'clock the grown-ups literally "went to school." Rooms were attended by their various teachers, and opportunity was given for an inspection of the new addition to the building as well as a survey of improvements made this summer on the old structure.

At eight o'clock the modern version of the "school bell" rang, calling the members to the auditorium. Over two hundred were present and interested in a discussion led by John Hayes, assistant superintendent of county schools in charge of instruction, in which he presented the topic "The school helps us build," and encouraged audience participation in seeking a solution to the school's problems. Since it is not known what "tomorrow" is, the teacher is confronted with what things will endure through the constant changes taking place. The parents themselves decided that it is the task of the school to teach the students to think and to teach them the technique of solving problems.

Prior to the open discussion, a skit entitled "Daddy's Thanks-giving Turkey" was presented by students from Leonard Rowe's seventh grade. Taking part were: Joseph Phillips, Kenneth Van Dyke, Wayne Koenig, Buddy Chambers, Myra Simpson and Walter Bueck.

It was announced that Miss Elizabeth Dickerson had been appointed school district superintendent and Paul Winsor, eighth grade teacher, vice-principal. The December meeting of the organization will feature a musical program which will be prepared by the music instructor, Mrs. Dorothy Harper, and will include talent from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, using Christmas for their theme. This program will occur on December ninth. Richard Hathcock was elected to represent the P.T.A. on the recreation park board, and the figures for attendance of parents at the meeting were awarded to Mrs. Barton's third grade, Miss Turpin's third grade, and Rowe's seventh grade.

The P.T.A. board has chosen the third Tuesday of each month for its card parties in the school utility room. Tickets are now available for the affair on Tuesday evening, November 16. Also, the group has begun its Christmas card sale and that activity is in full-swing. This year, in addition to the religious cards and those expressing the yuletide sentiment, there is a new series of Mother Goose added which are especially interesting and attractive. Orders for Christmas cards from the P.T.A. may be placed at the school. Room mothers and parents of children in Leonard Rowe's seventh grade served mince and pumpkin pie and tea and coffee in the utility room following the evening's program.

J. J. Chisholm New Member Of Paper's Staff

New in Cypress this week is James J. Chisholm, who has been appointed by the owner and publisher of the Cypress Enterprise, Paul Kroesen, as managing editor for the next few weeks in the absence of the present editor who will be on sick leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm only recently arrived in California from their home town of Braintree, Massachusetts, a suburb of the city of Boston, and have taken residence at the trailer court west of town operated by the Winfield's.

Prior to being graduated from the school of journalism at Boston University, "Jim" served with the United States navy in both the Atlantic and Pacific and is a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization. He has been engaged in newspapering in the east, having been employed on the staff of the "Quincy Patriot Ledger," a daily newspaper, and later a magazine. "This week on the south shore."

The Chisholms are both personable, young individuals, and the Cypress Enterprise takes pleasure in welcoming them to this community as part of its organization.

Pension Plan Holds Statewide Lead Of 23,000

Interest of many people in this community is still centered on Proposition No. 4 which would provide increases to old age pensioners, and needy blind, a week after election. Although the proposition still has a statewide lead over 23,000, the counting of absentee ballots could still effect the final tally. State courts must pass on the legality of the measure and its constitutionality is questioned.

Counting of an estimated 25,000 Los Angeles absentee ballots began Tuesday and should be completed by Friday.

Observes 79th Anniversary At Unusual Party

Mrs. Sarah E. Miller played hostess at her own birthday anniversary last Sunday, November seventh, at the Rainbow Angling club, cabin 17, the largest at the club. It was made ready to accommodate thirty guests. Mrs. Miller said that she knew the "children" would be happy to entertain her on her 79th birthday anniversary but she just wanted the world to know that she was 79 years young and could do her own entertaining.

The guests arrived early and by twelve noon had about 150 trout caught. W. C. Miller, acting chef, assisted by Mrs. Gersa Webber, grilled potatoes, made coffee and warmed the other dishes of delicious food. Then the fish were grilled to a queen's taste. It was a grand dinner on a grand occasion. After the feast Mrs. Miller opened the many packages that contained gifts that will make the day long remembered by the hostess. Before the gifts were opened, the little Susan Settle, and Ruthie Miller sang "happy birthday."

The surprise of the day was the attendance of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wigle of Salem, Oregon. Mr. Wigle had intended to visit southern California at a later date but on being informed of the "big party," they made the early trip just to be present at "Grandma's birthday party." Other guests beside the Wignes were Mrs. Myrtle Kendall and daughter, Mrs. Helen Orr of Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Monroe and daughter, Georgia Lee, of North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Weber and daughters JoAnn and Louise of Huntington Park; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Miller and son David of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Roger Miller and daughter Ruthie, of Buena Park; Mr. and Mrs. Dorian Brown and daughter Doreen of Anaheim; Mr. and Mrs. George Worthington and granddaughter Susan Settle, of High La Rue, Mr. and Mrs. George Pike, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller, Mrs. R. M. Fuquay and the hostess, Mrs. Sarah E. Miller, all of Cypress.

Beautiful birthday cakes were baked by Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Worthington. Not attending of the near relatives were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nabower, now traveling in Oregon, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Malley of Compton who were detained by illness.

COUNTY RELIEF ROLL ADDS 408

Orange county's relief roll included 4,784 persons for September, 1948, compared with 4,376 for September, 1947, California Taxpayers' association said today. The figures do not include people receiving state unemployment or disability payments.

The September, 1948, relief rolls of the county included 3,887 needy aged persons, 153 needy blind people, 456 dependent children, and 288 general county indigents. Relief payments for the month totaled $252,588 for these four kinds of relief.

Over the state as a whole, 304,663 people were on the relief rolls for September, 1948, compared with 264,076 during September, 1947.

Accident records still fail to demonstrate with finality that men are better drivers than women, or vice versa, states the National Automobile Club. They do show, however, that the two have different types of accidents: the women more minor mishaps proportionately, and the men the more serious ones.

HOSTESS MAJORETTES FOR BAND REVIEW

Here are eleven excellent reasons why Jimmie James, veteran parade director, is predicting a record-breaking attendance of more than a half a million spectators at this year's 8th Annual All Western Band Review to be held in downtown Long Beach on Friday evening, November 26th. He is shown above instructing the members of the "Hostess Majorette" corps who will officially greet the more than 70 bands and 7000 individual performers who will compete in the largest and most spectacular all-musical parade held annually in the United States.

IT'S BEING SAID - - IN CYPRESS

That the center of attraction on main street this week has been a colorful individual who calls himself "Woody" and has been entertaining grown-ups and children alike with his trained dog and burro show. On November 11 Dan Norland tells us of a new drive-in restaurant to be built soon, and we hear rumors and rumors of rumors all around town for expansion.

That the residents of this and surrounding towns owe a rising vote of thanks to the local volunteer fireman who left their homes and business to fight man's age old enemy-fire. These men are true spirited community minded citizens who deserve far more praise than they ever get for the self sacrifice they expend in putting out fires. As they get no pay for this hazardous work the least we can do is to thank them all the next time we see them on the streets of Cypress.

That competition has been keen between Ruth Doerr and Chris Caron in the Doerr's Sundries and a friendly spirit of rivalry existed to see which expectant grandmother would hear the news of the arrival of a new grandchild first. Ruth thought for sure she had won the steak dinner from Chris when Mrs. Vernon Hawes, Clifford Vernon to the family on November fourth at Santa Ana community hospital. Within seconds of checking over the telephone, Chris hung up the receiver, only to find daughter Deloris standing in the door waving a message from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Green, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, saying Linda Sue had arrived on October 31. Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Cardin are the happy grandparents in Cypress, and the baby weighed six pounds and four ounces. Baby Clifford weighed eight pounds and two and one-half ounces and will reside with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Hawes and brother Rickie, at 852 North Palm street in Anaheim. Mr. and Mrs. Stan Doerr will watch his progress with grandparents' pride.

That Commander Biggs of the VFW post has expressed desire for whole hearted cooperation from town folk toward the goal of a headquarters building for the local post. The school building is serving as a meeting place at present but it is inadequate and is all ready overloaded by meetings of many other local groups.

WORKERS COLLECT FOR DISABILITY

Disability benefit payments in the amount of $400 were paid from the State Disability Insurance Fund in the form of weekly cash benefit payments to workers in the Buena Park area who were unemployed due to illness or disability during the month of October. This information was supplied by V. L. Heyzel, Manager, Long Beach District Disability Insurance office.

Workers who are disabled or ill for the most part would have been wholly without income had they not been partially insured against such wage losses.

Workers who are disabled or ill and who have not filed a claim for disability insurance benefits may secure information at the nearest Department of Employment office or write to the Disability Insurance Office, P.O. Box 469, Long Beach, for information relative to filing a claim.

Cleaners & Dyers Taken Over By New Owners

COTTON MATHER DESCENDENT

The Cypress Cleaners & Dyers located at 5515 Lincoln avenue, will continue to operate under the high standards set by former owner W. I. Reed of Bellflower, who recently sold out to Mr. and Mrs. George Witcraft, and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Merriam formerly of Ogeen, Iowa.

The new owners announced that the route drivers, Bob and Delbert Reed, will continue to make pickups and deliveries as they have in the past. Edward Merriam, son-in-law of the Witcrafts is married to the former Barbara Witcraft, and is an experienced man in the dry cleaning business having worked as it for some time in Iowa.

Mrs. Witcraft (Eva Mather) is a direct descendant of Cotton Mather, famed American author and preacher of colonial Massachusetts and New England. She claims to have access to papers proving her heritage.

Costume Party Enjoyed At Home Of Milbourn's

On Friday evening, November 29, one of the most exciting of the Halloween season's affairs was held for the younger set at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Milbourn, 6372 east Orange avenue, when their children entertained a group of little friends at a costume party.

Games were played, and each child fished in a huge, decorated wicker cauldron for a prize. There were also ten prizes hidden in the slices from two immense three-layer cakes served at refreshment time. One was a devil's food and the other a silver cake, each decorated for the children's enjoyment with Halloween faces. Nestled in the center of the table beside a giant pumpkin with a black cat perched atop were little boxes filled with black and orange candies, candy corn and peanuts for favors. Each costumed character also received a horn and more candy upon departure. Ice cream was served with the cake.

The judges, who made the final decision as to the best costumes, were "Nebb" Milbourn, Orval Kelley, and Don DeWitt. The prize for the best Halloween costume went to Jackie Abbott, who came attired as a skeleton. The most original costume, that of a red devil, was worn by David Monier, and the prettiest and best costume was a clown, who was Wayne Abbott. The prize for the funniest costume went to Gordon Woodware who was a little negro boy for the occasion.

Present and participating in the evenings' party from six to eight p.m. were David, Billy and Bonnie Mohler; Joey and Billie Lou Barrick; Gordon Woodward, Claudia Coleman, Barbara and Leroy Smothers; David and Nancy Maos; Wayne and Jackie Abbott; Donna Jean and Norman Dewitt; Alan Taylor; Gerald Kelley; Linda Anne Kelley; Ann Weaver, Freda Hurt and Hooby Keane, in addition to the Milbourn's.

JR. WOMEN'S CLUB HAS TURKEY DINNER

A turkey dinner was enjoyed by members of the Junior Women's club when it met Wednesday noon at the home of Mrs. James Booner on Brookdale avenue in Fullerton. Co-hostess with Mrs. Booner was Mrs. K. T. Beason.

Two new members were welcomed into the club. Mrs. Robert G. Murray and Mrs. John DePoter. Plans were made for the December meeting which will be the annual Christmas party with an exchange of gifts and revelation of secret pals. Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Leon Ferguson, Mrs. W. A. Dyer and Mrs. R. J. Betke. In addition to those mentioned, present were Mesdames Bennie Pugh, and Jillinda, G. H. Gamble and Peggy June, H. R. Christiansen, Joe Ferguson, George Costa and Ronnie, Glenn Miser and Shirley R. Gaylord, John Lukens, James Palmer, George Marshall and Patty, Leslie Brannan, H. L. Minnick, Norville Chapman and Jimmie Beason, son of the hostess.

LOCAL FIREMEN FIGHT BLAZE, REPORT FIRE "HOT"

THE BIG FIRE THAT RAGED OVER 45,000 ACRES OF LAND IN SILVERADO AND MODJESKA CANYONS AFTER ONCE BEING ABANDONED AS "OUT" HAS FINALLY BEEN CONTROLLED BY THE COORDINATED FIRE FIGHTING OF 1,000 FIREMEN WITH ONLY THREE MEN REPORTED ON THE INJURY LIST. BELOW IS A REPORT ON THE FIRE AS WITNESSED BY SOME OF THE LOCAL FIRE FIGHTERS AND AS TOLD TO "FROSTY" LOWREY.—EDITOR'S NOTE

Nazarene Church To Hear Youth Leader Next Week

Southern California District Youth Director, the Reverend Lyle K. Potter, will speak at the Church of the Nazarene, 9021 Walker street, this coming Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. and each night following until November 21. "We are happy to announce the coming of Reverend Potter to our church," said the Reverend Eric

Jordan, pastor of the local congregation, "and we invite the entire community to share this occasion with us."

Reverend Potter, in his official capacity, has charge of promoting the youth work in one-hundred Nazarene churches in southern California. This work includes rallies, revivals, institutes, camps and clubs. He is also a representative of the District Sunday School board, and the District Young People's council.

Esteemed a dynamic, enthusiastic, and inspiring speaker. The Reverend Potter is much in demand for special services, and his visit to this vicinity is expected to attract wide interest.

School Bond Issue Urged At Stanton

Floating of a $150,000 bond issue to construct additions to both Magnolia District Elementary Schools is urged by the Parent-Teacher Association, which heard reports on the subject by two representatives of the State Division of Schoolhouse Planning at a meeting in the school, Mrs. Homer Kirk, publicity chairman, said.

One classroom at the Magnolia No. 2 school in Independence burned last year and the No. 1 school, at Magnolia and Orange Avenues, is so crowded that the kindergarten is meeting in the auditorium. Date of the election on the bond issue is to be set soon, Mrs. Kirk said. The Earl Ryan family put on a musical program, Ryan, a member of the school district board of trustees, and his two sons, Dennis and Barry, playing horns, with Mrs. Ryan accompanying on the piano. Pie and coffee were served, in minutes.

COMPETING WITH WAR

If — even during the height of the war — an entire division of men had been killed, and more than a corps had been maimed, the nation would have been shocked with horror.

Yet fire does that every year. It does it on a piecemeal basis, of course. But that does not make the total any less terrible. Close to 11,000 lives a year are now given to it through carelessness and ignorance. And the toll of the maimed and burned and crippled is about 50,000. Its depredations are especially great among small children, many of whom become lifelong invalids.

Early in October, the nation celebrated Fire Prevention Week, as it does every year. A vast amount of work was done during the week to awaken the country to the menace of fire, and to teach us how fire may be prevented. But if the public works on the "out of sight, out of mind" basis, the Week will not bear full fruit. Fire prevention, to be successful, must be carried on day in and day out. It must become a routine part of living in all homes and all places of work. It must be as automatic as eating and sleeping.

When that is accomplished, fire's toll of death and injury will be cut enormously — to say nothing of a property loss which has been costing us more than $700,000,000 a year.

Labor disgraces no man; unfortunately you occasionally find men who disgrace labor. — Ulysses S. Grant, Speech at Arbitration Union, Birmingham, England.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

The significance of Armistice Day goes deep into the heart of this country. It marks our victory in the two most destructive wars the world has ever known. Of comparable importance, it should remind every American of the enormous human and economic wealth we have been forced to spend to maintain our liberties, and to defend those principles upon which the dignity of man depends.

Armistice Day should bring us another thought as well. This nation has never provoked a war. No people on earth is more peaceful in intention. None will do more to achieve a just and lasting peace for all countries. If ever we are forced to engage in war, it will be because we can find no other means of maintaining those rights and freedoms which make up the American tradition.

The United States must build and conserve its strength. That means, on the surface, that we must have a strong military force capable of dealing with aggressors, and a mighty industrial structure to back it up. But these things, vital as they are, represent a reflection of our strength rather than the substance of it. For the core of this nation's strength and power lies in the spirit of its people.

That spirit is the spirit of freedom. It is based on the knowledge that every American has inalienable rights which cannot be abrogated. The right to speak our minds, the right to own property, the right to engage in a business of our choosing, the right to be free of dictation by government — these and other rights constitute our strength. And that, too, is the significance of Armistice Day.

SPARKS

From The News Circuit

By LEONE BAXTER

There's Civil War brewing in the West. California is right in the thick of it — and very much in the minority.

Pitted against California is the smaller State of Arizona. But what Arizona lacks in size is made up in support, for lined up on her side are Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming and Utah. It's California against the field!

The battle is over water, the lifeblood of Western agriculture. At issue is disposition of water from the Colorado River, which flows down the Rockies and eventually forms the boundary between the two contesting States.

Twenty-six years ago an agreement was reached for distribution of the water among the river's basin States. That agreement is known as the Colorado River Compact of 1922. But in the intervening years, differences have arisen over conflicting interpretations of the Compact's clauses.

Most observers feel that on final settlement of the dispute depends much of California's future!

Specifically, California wants Congress to hold Arizona accountable for use of water from the Gila River, a Colorado tributary located wholly within Arizona's borders. Arizona says her use of the Gila flow is her own business. But California claims that under the terms of the Compact, the Gila water should be shared against Arizona's share of the main river water.

If that were done, sufficient water would be available for California's needs. If it isn't done, California's growth population-wise in the southern areas may be badly stunted.

Already, water supplies are insufficient to take care of present manufacturing and agricultural requirements. Some industries, it is said, have passed up prospective locations south of the Tehachapi because of the uncertain water future of the area. And there has even been talk of allowing orange groves to revert to desert in some sections.

But Arizona wants to construct a mammoth irrigation project which would be possible only if its claims to the Colorado are upheld. And it wants Congress to confirm its claims and authorize the project.

Unfortunately for California, the upper Colorado basin States, having tributary streams of their own, support Arizona's position in this Civil War of the West.

So far, there have been no border sorties, nor have State Guards been called out. But it's war in dead earnest, nonetheless, and for serious stakes.

Nicholas Eugene is the name chosen for the son born to Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Baldasari of 8782 Cypress avenue, on November 9 in the naval hospital at Long Beach. The father is presently on duty at Pearl Harbor. The baby weighed seven pounds and seven ounces.

When H. A. Kelley was returning home from his work at the sheriff's office about three Monday morning the fog was very dense. A car was stopped on the wrong side of the white line and Kelley misjudging the distance due to the fog, side-swiped it, badly damaging his car. His glasses were broken and he suffered severe shock and lacerations on his face and head.

Word from Mr. and Mrs. Al Campbell states they are now in Salt Lake City but may be moving on to Montana soon.

ANNOUNCE SCHOOL

DISTRICT ANNEXATION

By action of the board of supervisors of Orange county in a meeting last week, a twenty acre tract of land owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Scally, has been annexed to the Cypress elementary school district. In the past, this particular section of property was a part of the Savanna school district.

The second and third grade girls of the Cypress school have formed two Brownie troops. Leaders of the second grade girls are Mrs. Bertha Hamby and Mrs. Jordan. In the third grade troop, Mrs. Betty Woody, Mrs. Georgia Wiaschin and Mrs. Zedith Hathcock are the leaders.

R. L. Miles, driver of the school bus who has been off duty because of an infected arm resulting from an injury in a recent fall, is expected back following the Thanksgiving holiday. Present driver is Harry Lierman, from Orange.

Two "don't forgets" — the P.T.A. monthly card party in the utility room of the school house on Tuesday evening, November 16, and the sale of Christmas cards sponsored by the same organization, which may be ordered at the school house at any time.

Poet's Corner

I Am Virginia (Smyth Nolen) Quast

HORRORS!

Many names have come my way. Been tacked on me, here and there. Still I almost feel today, I'm the dame without a name; Take VIRGINIA, brings to mind, Foolish Virgins, in the Good Book; Foolish, well — ! That I wouldn't like to tell!

SMYTH is nearly MYTH—nothing if you please, Untrue, no kin or kith; It wasn't changed from Smith.

NOLEN was the "Man Without a Country" I read that in a book; QUAST, they always call it something worse, Like Crossed, or Quest, I don't like its fame; One woman roused in fire fired her, "Mistress QUIST, Quist, Quist," She screamed, "You did, you do, you don't," Or, "If you didn't, don't!" But it didn't hurt at all, To myself I said, "Ha, and Hist, Mrs. Quist is non-existent, Glory be, or bye, Mrs. QUIST, that sure ain't I!"

ODE TO FALL

Once more it's fall, the sad season,
Or so the poets like to say.
When all the flowers must fade
and die,
And all the song birds fly away.

They say the birds will all return,
But the flowers can not be saved,
And all too soon, they'll resting
be
In a white snow covered grave.

The snow a blanket soft and white
To keep them warm while resting,
Through winter's long cold night.

So, fall does not seem sad to me,
Of the flowers, it's not really the end,
For I think of them only as sleeping,
In spring's morning, they'll waken again.

A CASULTY

I found a tear in my garden bed
In a crumpled flower at my feet—
And the dewdrops wept at the sight of it,
And the sunbeams dimmed at the plight of it,
In its anguish of defeat.

A broken bloom in my garden bed,
A precious gem that was doomed to fade;
And the bluebells hung their heads in grief,
And the lilies paled in disbelief
As it stood out in such sharp relief—

A straggler in a parade.
A tragedy in my garden bed—
Its crushed petals still fragrantly sweet,
Like a crushed hope—what became of it?

Or a shattered dream—Oh! the shame of it!
While my cat, the culprit—and blame of it
Slid silently past my feet.

Schools Aid In Red Cross Drive

The annual national Junior Red Cross membership drive, which is conducted from November 1st to 15th, is well under way in the schools in Orange County, Mrs. Albert Launer, Chairman of Northern Orange County Chapter, announces.

Through the cooperation with Red Cross by the principals and the teachers, accepting the assignments of Junior Red Cross sponsors in their respective schools, Orange County had 100% membership last year and are working again toward that goal, Mrs. Launer stated.

In Northern Orange County Chapter, the Junior Red Cross program is under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Fowler, who reports that an expanded Junior Red Cross program is planned in the schools as is the greater participation by high school and junior college students in the senior activities of the chapter.

High school students are planning on regular volunteer assignments as staff aides to assist with the clerical work in the chapter headquarters in the Chapman Building. Qualified students of the high school will serve on the disaster service, speaker and radio committee, commercial students in display work, and students will participate in the safety service program.

"This volunteer service not only helps Red Cross meet community needs but is recognized by educators as splendid, practical experience for students", Mrs. Fowler stated.

CATHOLIC PARISH

SPONSORS HAM DINNER

The Buena Park parish of St. Paul V is sponsoring a ham dinner on November 15th at the Woman's Club house.

The bountiful meal, which will cost just $1.00, will start at 5:30 P.M., and last until everyone has been served. Prizes and entertainment are included in this event. Children will be charged half price.

The two Kaufman boys from Cypress who played on Ernie's Drive-In softball team last summer prior to leaving on an extended trip, have now returned together with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kaufman, and younger brother, Freddie. Three months ago they drove to New York, took their car across the Atlantic with them, and visited in Switzerland, driving through France. The family arrived home Monday night, and is at present staying in Los Alamitos. Tony plays center field on the team and Oscar is shortstop.

Marilyn Robinson, four-year-old niece of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard, has been visiting in their home at 8121 Miller road. The Hubbard's met the streamliner in Santa Ana last Friday and little Marilyn stayed to visit while her mother continued on to northern California. The Robinson family lives in San Diego.

For killing a deer with the aid of a spotlight, Jack L. Klavewiden of Fortuna has been fined $500 by Judge Van Dyke. He was arrested near Hemlock by State Fish and Game Warden Garrie Heryford.

"Most people do not realize that water should be as productive, acre for acre, as land, and of all the gifts of nature we have misused the waters most."—Jay N. Darling, president, National Wildlife Federation.

"Hunting accidents have been below average in California this year. Let's keep it that way by unloading guns when not hunting and treating every gun as if it were loaded."—Fred P. Cronmiller, regional chief of wildlife management, L.S. Forest Service.

"Thirteen million acres of former marsh has been drained during the last 30 years, and with more water needed for domestic and agricultural use, there will be dangerously little water for ducks and geese."—Everett E. Horn, duck depression agent, U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

"It would seem far wiser to frankly admit some areas just can't provide satisfactory pheasant shooting and ask the local sportsman who wants to hunt pheasants or quail to drive a few miles to a naturally productive area."—Richard H. Rouga, curator of conservation, American Museum of Natural History.

The greatest problem facing fish and game administration in California today is the human problem. Water diversions, pollution, increasing numbers of hunters and fishermen, and encroachment on wildlife habitat are a few of the factors in this problem.—Sel. Gordon, consultant to the Wildlife Conservation Board, and former executive director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The Division of Fish and Game reminds local sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing.

Trout—Ends October 31. Limit: 15 trout, salmon, or Rocky Mountain whitefish in the aggregate, or 10 pounds and one fish in the round. Angling hours: one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset.

LOBSTERS—Ends March 15. No bag limit. Size limit: none under 10½ inches or over 16 inches. Must be brought to shore in such condition that size may be determined.

BLACK BASS—No closed season. Daily bag and possession limit: 10 fish, but not over 15 pounds and one bass in the aggregate in the round. No minimum size.

SUNFISH, CRAPPIE, SACRAMENTO PERCH, CALICO BASS—No closed season. Bag limit: 25 fish of all species in the aggregate. No minimum size.

CATFISH—No closed season. Bag limit: 15 pounds and one fish in the aggregate in the round. Night fishing prohibited, except in District 22. Angling license required.

FROGS—Ends November 29. Limit: 24 per day, 48 per week. Minimum size limit: four inches from nose to crock. No license required.

STRIPED BASS—No closed season. Limit five fish or 25 pounds and one fish, except that, irrespective of weight, at least two fish may be possessed. Size limit: 12 inches.

Robert Norton, B.T., who is on a thirty-day leave from his duties aboard the USS Coral Sea, is visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, 5701 Bonnie Lane. Sailing Norton made the trip home from Norfolk, Virginia, on his motorcycle.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boomer of 8872 Hoffman street are the parents of a seven pound, fifteen ounce son, born in the Anaheim Community hospital on November third. He has been named Rodney Leif. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Emma Boomer, a resident of this vicinity for many years. The Boomers are the parents of two other children, a boy and a girl.

Carpenter - Carmichael Nuptial Vows Spoken In Lovely Ceremony

Miss Lois Carpenter, of 418 W. Erna street, La Habra, became the bride of Maurice Carmichael at the popular Capilla de San Antonio, with Rev. M. E. Nicholls, pastor of the Four Square Church of La Habra, officiating with the double ring ceremony.

Potted palms, baskets of snowy white chrysanthemums, and the glow of white tapers made a romantic setting for the impressive rites. Mrs. Viola Hodge sang "Always," before the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Claude Carpenter, was gown in a gown of white satin made with a fitted bodice with a yoke of lace, and long sleeves pointed at the wrist. The long full skirt ended with a train. Her bouquet of white carnations was centered with an orchid, with a cascade of white satin ribbon. A hair arrangement held her fingertip veil.

Jeanette Carpenter was her sister's maid of honor. Sue wore a floor length gown of pale blue. Her bouquet was of flowers in pale lavender.

Elmer Carmichael, who became a benedict two weeks before his brother, was the best man.

Kenneth Knapp and Charles Bengosue, both of Anaheim, were the ushers.

Mrs. Carpenter was attired in a suit of grey with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a dress of royal blue, with gold buttons. Both mothers wore corsages of pink rose buds.

At the reception held in the tea room, Mrs. Viola Hodge and Mrs. Ariene Stodard presided at the table, serving the wedding cake and punch.

When the new Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael left for a honeymoon trip to Big Bear, she wore a black dress and grey coat.

The bride is a graduate of Fullerton High School, and the bridegroom of Anaheim High School. He is employed by a brick contractor in Garden Grove. The young couple are living at 3011 Holder Road.

GARDEN HINTS

LANDSCAPING ART
(By Glenn L. Black)
WHICH COMES FIRST?

Is it the house or the lot? Generally speaking, people planning a home give neither precedence. The chain of circumstances usually just happens; but it should not.

There are so many factors which should be considered when coping with a home-planning program. The family, its size, ages of its members, sex—all are important. The tastes, habits, hobbies, even vocations, should also be considered, along with climatic needs or preferences. These would affect both house and site.

Suppose a family dreaming of just the sort of house they would like to build one day when their ship comes in. And suppose the ship really does leave into sight, should the wealth-laden sailors slide out to their building architect and retain him to make a set of plans designed around their treasured ideas? Or should they look to friends realtor and select a plot of ground first?

House-and-Lot Harmony
On the other hand, imagine that the family is one that enjoys the view or twinkling city lights as seen from a hilltop promontory. And the members have some definite ideas about the type house they want, too. Will their house fit the contours of their chosen lot? Should they arbitrarily select the house site without giving some thought to whether they might find one more suitable for their house plan? Will any procedure but one of simultaneously considering these two essentials assure the ideal home?

No; it takes a combination of site planning and house planning, with careful consideration of all the factors which go into solving the home building problem. Barely can the family offer all the skillful advice needed for such planning. The building architect, the landscape planner, the realtor, and sometimes even the engineer should be consulted. Frequently it is advisable for all to meet together on the site for a discussion of its possibilities. Later, even the interior decorator might enter into the consultations.

So, neither the house nor the lot should come first. They should come together.

EXECUTIVE BOARD OF CENTRALIA P.T.A. ENJOYS POT-LUCK

A meeting of the executive board of the Centralia Parent-Teacher association took place Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Raymond Dillon on Harding street. A pot luck luncheon was served preceding the business meeting.

Several of the members volunteered to mimeograph and get ready the yearly program. The annual Christmas treat this year will be candy canes which will be given out at the December room party at which time those having birthdays during the months will be honored.

The suggestion of a small rummage sale after each P.T.A. meeting where usable children's clothing may be sold met with approval and the date of the first one will be January 10. Other money raising plans were discussed. Tentative date for the annual carnival is April 8.

Mrs. Carl Korn reported on the Fourth District meeting which was held at Anaheim and announced the next one for November 18 at Costa Mesa.

VET'S INSURANCE AND BENEFICIARIES

There are approximately 415,000 veterans of World War II in the Veterans Administration Branch 12 area (California, Arizona, Nevada, and Hawaii) who have retained their National Service Life Insurance. As advice to those veterans the VA points out that one of the most important things to do about their G. I. insurance is the naming of a beneficiary or beneficiaries of their policies.

Unless a veteran gives this matter thoughtful consideration, he may fail to get the most out of his insurance. For instance, if no beneficiary is named, the policyholder may be risking a financial loss to his heirs. Up to August 1, 1946, it was not absolutely necessary for the veteran to name primary and contingent beneficiaries because the law provided for payment of the insurance to legal heirs in a specified order. Now, however, if the veteran dies without naming a beneficiary, or if the beneficiary should die before the policyholder, the insurance will be paid in a lump sum to the veteran's estate.

If this happens, and the insurance becomes part of an estate, it is subject to all the laws governing estates, including claims of creditors, administrators' fees and court expenses. Thus the veteran's heirs might easily lose some of the insurance money which they might otherwise have received.

On the other hand, if the veteran names a specific beneficiary and the insurance is paid to him or her, it is exempt from taxation and from any claims made by creditors. The insurance is not liable to attachment, levy or seizure under any legal process, either before or after receipt by the beneficiary. The only exception to this rule is that the U. S. government may take claims against the insurance.

Hence, veterans can protect their heirs against possible financial loss by naming a beneficiary, and they can add to that protection by naming a contingent beneficiary to whom the insurance is to be paid if the first beneficiary should die without receiving the money.

State To Finance Vets' Tax Bills

The California Department of Veterans Affairs today came to the rescue of more than 16,000 veterans financing their homes and farms through the State to help them meet city and county tax bills sharply increased by a recent decision of the State Supreme Court.

Director of Veterans Affairs Lawrence C. Stevens announced that the State agency will pay the current year's taxes or these veterans if they so request, and then add the amount to the deferred principal of their contract.

"For example," Stevens said, "if a veteran is making payments of $40 on his home and finds himself unable to meet a local tax bill of, say, $120, the Department will take care of the tax bill and then add approximately three months to the life of his contract."

The Supreme Court decision of April 3, 1948, ended the long-established practice of basing the assessment on a veteran's State-advanced home only on the extent of his equity, with the balance tax-exempt because of State ownership. Under that system a veteran purchasing a home on a 20-year contract with the Department of Veterans Affairs was taxed on only 30 per cent of the assessed valuation for the first five years, and an increasing percentage as he acquired a larger equity.

Thus the effect on many World War II veterans of the court's decision, Stevens pointed out, was to more than triple their current tax bills.

Stevens emphasized that the Department's plan to help veterans meet this additional financial burden without increasing their monthly installments applies to 1948-49 taxes only. He added that veterans are already being worked out whereby the veteran home-buyer can in the future authorize the Department to advance his taxes annually, but these plans will involve adding to the monthly installments so that the tax will be taken care of within a 12-month period.

Contract-holders are being notified of this year's plan in time to take action before the first installment of local taxes, becomes delinquent, but their request for assistance must be on file at Department of Veterans Affairs headquarters in Sacramento by November 15, Stevens said. Although only the first installment is due December 5, he added, legal and financial technicalities make it necessary for the Department to pay both installments by that date.

In celebration of the completion of their new home on Walker St., Mr. and Mrs. George Okada held open house on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The rooms were attractively decorated with floral arrangements. An elaborate buffet luncheon of various kinds of Japanese foods was served and eaten with chopsticks. Many friends of the couple, both American and Japanese, attended the enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Melvin Coburn and Mrs. Merton Jones were joined by Miss Pat Stillman, niece of the latter, in Los Angeles last Saturday for luncheon and an afternoon of shopping.

In a raffle conducted among the townspeople last Saturday noon, Earl Essex won the turkey.

Mrs. Ed Robinson Invites Guests To Daughter's Party

Mrs. Edwin Robinson, of 6332 Lincoln avenue, was hostess on Friday, October 29, at a birthday party in honor of her daughter, Shirley Lou, who was two years old. The little girl received many lovely gifts and at the retirement hour ice cream and birthday cake were served the guests.

Present were Mrs. Max Rau Weston, Mrs. Mary Lou and Shirley Lou, of Lawndale; Mrs. Victor Durston and Sheila Bell, Mrs. Mary Lou and Bobby and Nancy, of Artesia; Mrs. Everett Simpson of Fullerton; Mrs. Bob McKeel, Bobby and Jerry; Mrs. James Bryant and Patty; Mrs. Thomas Creek and Edna; Jerry Ramsey and Mrs. Robinson, Shirley Lou and Linda Mae Robinson.

JOAN TAYLOR WEDS COMPTON RESIDENT

Although friends of Miss Joan Taylor and Walter Baigleish of Compton knew of their engagement, the announcement of their wedding in Yuma, Arizona on September 23 comes as a surprise. They are making their home in Compton, Baigleish being employed at the Sun Oil refinery in Longbeach.

Mrs. Baigleish is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otello Hupp and was graduated from Cypress Elementary school and attended Anaheim high school.

Sign Nothing, Orange County Veterans warned

Former prisoners of war are advised by Ben Lieberman county service officer of Orange county, to think twice before they sign a contract with any "committee" or "agency" offering, for a fee, to represent them in applying for special compensation to which they are entitled by federal law.

An organization with headquarters in the east is known to have representatives in some parts of California who offer to assist veterans in collecting what is due them under the War Claims Act of 1948, charging 10 per cent of the amount collected as a fee.

In one county seat, four veterans who were formerly POWs signed such contracts, only to learn shortly afterward that local agencies exist for assisting them, without charge, to collect the 1000 allowance that the War Claims Act entitles them to for the time they spent as enemy prisoners. This allowance has been fixed at $1 a day.

To date, no federal government machinery has been set up even to prepare application forms for this benefit. In the meantime, ex-POWs are invited to inquire at the Orange County Service Office, located at 225 north Broadway, Santa Ana, for information about their rights under the war claims Act.

Sam Stenbeck visited with friends up and down Lincoln avenue on Tuesday afternoon. Sam was formerly employed at the All-in-All Appliance store, before it was sold to the owners of the Cypress hardware store.

Mrs. M. E. Inskeep, Monte Inskeep, Miss Beverly Inskeep and her fiancée, Ray Clancy, were guests of the Sam Coughlans on Monday night. Pictures taken of the scenic spots visited by Monte Inskeep and the Louis Hoskins' who were also present, on their recent trip to New York, were shown and television was also enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCold have as their house guest the latter's father, T. H. Taylor of Liberty, Kansas, who will spend the winter here.

Mr. and Mrs. John Emerson of San Francisco, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Russell L. Jordan and daughter at 8672 Belmont in Cypress Acres.

TRAVELOGUE

Written by W. C. Miller, former publisher of West Orange County publishing company.

We crossed the state line into Oregon late in the afternoon and we began to search immediately for a likely place to pitch our tent. For twelve miles we passed through low desert hills with nothing but boulders and sage brush to break the monotony and then we entered the Maineur river canyon. There is a railroad bed and highway No. 20 lighting for a roadbed along this very narrow and crooked canyon. In many places the canyon is so narrow that the highway has to climb up on the mountain above the railroad to have a toe-hold.

After driving about fifty miles along this rather scenic canyon we came to an old highway construction camp site. A nice little plot about an acre in area had been graded down and appeared ideal for a camp. In no time we had the tents set up and a nice supper under our tents. When the twilight dimmed enough we slipped out to the river and had a very enjoyable up. All this time our camp seemed ideal. There were a few mosquitoes but not really bothersome. So when the first stars began to peak over the canyon walls we went to bed, but not to sleep.

Suddenly there was a puff of wind down the canyon. The first puff was followed by the second, by the third; each puff growing stronger. The time between puffs grew shorter until there was no time in between and the wind was a howling fury. Our little tents had no protection but stood out on that bench of land in the elbow of the river. The canyon acted as a flute from one desert to another. I have seen the wind move mountains of sand but there was no sand to move in this canyon, it was mostly solid rock. The wind was not hindered with sand and so it just tore down that canyon with nothing to slow it down.

Even our cars rocked in the winds madness. I stood and braced the center pole of our tent until I gave out. I told Susan we had to let the tent top down or be tumbled over into the river. Down came the tent and it settled snugly over our bed and remained quiet. Susan loves to sleep in a tent but when that tent jugged down over her head she just could not breathe so we changed ends with our bed and stuck our heads through the open door. Well, I was soon asleep. The wind could just howl, it could not bother us any more.

It did not seem that I had been asleep but a few minutes when I was awakened by Susan. She was pawing and kicking and fighting to beat the band. The wind had died down to a perfect calm; with the calm had come a host of mosquitoes and were they hungry! Susan could not stand the tent door closed over her face nor could she stand the mosquitoes. So there was nothing to do about it but to elevate the tent again. So I fumbled in the dark until I raised the tent again, found the gun with the mosquito boud, and drove them out of the tent, closed the door and settled down to a long night's sleep only to find the sun peeping over the mountain.

We arose, cooked breakfast, loaded our equipment and started out from the most joyless camping spot we had encountered in all our travels. We had not gone a quarter mile from the camp when we came to a secluded little niche in the canyon wall where the wind could not have penetrated and where there was an ideal spring of ice cold water and plenty of wood. I had been complimented all along the trip for my uncanny ability of selecting camping sites. Well, I made one mistake and it cost me a night's sleep, a lot of work and I almost fell out with Susan.

Yours,
Sargum Sprout

Mrs. Burt Kroesen of Ames, Iowa, arrived in California Thursday morning on the City of Los Angeles to spend an indefinite time with her daughter, Miss Beth Kroesen. She will also visit with her son, Paul Kroesen, and his family, all of Buena Park.

"But Darling, they haven't GOT Tchaikovsky's No. 6 in B Minor, 'Pathétique' conducted by Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony Orchestra!"

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ewing are receiving congratulations on the recent birth of their daughter whom they have named Mary Alice.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to Section 19, Ordinance No. 351, (Land Use Ordinance) of Orange County, California, as amended, a public hearing will be held by the Orange County Planning Commission on Application No. 870, of A. E. Arnold, requesting authorization of the issuance of a Conditional Permit for a variance in the front yard regulation of the M-3, Unclassified District, from 70 feet from the center line of Lincoln Ave., a State Highway, to a minimum of 40 feet therefrom, to permit the erection of a retail store building on the north side of said Lincoln Ave., about 91 feet east of Walker St., Cypress.

Said public hearing on the above application will be held at 9:00 A.M., November 13, 1948, in the hearing and meeting room of the Orange County Planning Commission, room 315, Court House Annex, Santa Ana, California, at which time and place all persons interested therein will be heard. The above application, together with plot plan and any other accompanying material, is posted near the entrance to said hearing and meeting room for public inspection.

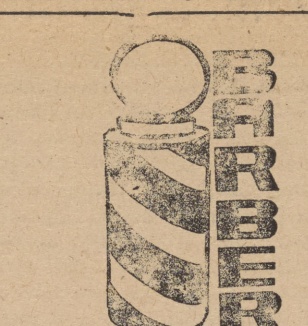

Harold St. Johns, Secretary Orange County Planning Commission.

Marilyn Eva was the name chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Reese of 10931 Cherry street, for their new little daughter who was born on October 27 in the Community hospital in Long Beach.
